Metro Group Maritime, an accounts receivable management firm serving the maritime and transportation industries, announces that former employee Kemal Kurtulus, an investigative research analyst and paralegal of five years, is set for new responsibilities at the Federal Maritime Commission.

”The Federal Maritime Commission (FMC) is an independent regulatory agency responsible for the regulation of oceanborne transportation in the foreign commerce of the U.S.”¹ Kurtulus will have duties under the Bureau of Certification and Licensing's Ocean Transportation Intermediaries Division in Washington DC.

“I am very excited about the opportunity that has been granted to me and I do look forward to serving the Commission for many years to come,” said Kurtulus.
