Don Politi, the former long-time Director of Credit and Collections for Hapag-Lloyd, will be joining the Education & Training Advisory Board of Metro Group Maritime.

Mr. Politi's duties will include advising the management of MGM on better methods of educating and training their own staff as well as that of other steamship lines. Additionally, Mr. Politi will be conducting in-house training seminars for MGM debt collectors. The first session will be held on May 23 at MGM's New York headquarters.

"Don is the dean of maritime collectors and will be a tremendous asset to our firm," said Marcus Arky, general counsel for Metro Group Maritime. "Collaborating with Don will not only help us to work more efficiently internally but it will also help us to advise our steamship line clients. We're very happy to be able to work with him."

"I look forward to bolstering Metro Group Maritime's current training practices. Knowledge is power in receivable management and we will develop programs toward that goal," said Don Politi.

Metro Group Maritime, with offices in New York City and Genoa, Italy, is a commercial receivable management and debt recovery company focusing on the maritime and transportation industry.
